

ORAN PARK HIGH SCHOOL

Message from our Principal

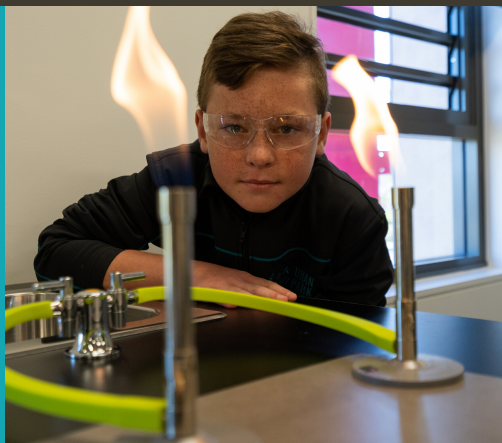

It is my great honour to be the foundation Principal of Oran Park High School. The Oran Park community waited many years for 'their high school' to be completed and it was really exciting that the moment finally arrived in January 2020 when the school opened its' doors to students for the first time.

Oran Park High School is a visually stunning, beautifully designed school, full of future-focussed learning and social spaces. However, as we have started to utilise our wonderful new school for the first time, we need to keep in mind that great schools are not just about modern buildings but also about the people that work and learn within those buildings.

Oran Park High School is a great school because we have a highly skilled and talented staff who are excited to be working with the children of this community, who they will nurture to be thoughtful, respectful and motivated young adults, and who are fully supported in this endeavour by their parents and carers. And it is also a great school because it is built on high expectations and mutually respectful relationships that position it at the heart of a new and growing community.

Our Culture & Brand

We refer to our brand mark or school logo as 'Connection to Country'. The Connection to Country mark:

- signals the importance of indigenous heritage and connection to the environment.
- visual elements consist of: river, hills, star and waratah. The star as a central element combines indigenous and western symbolism and reflects the aspirations for the school and students – to reach for the stars.
- makes subtle reference to the Oran Park racing history through the wreath form (and its link to Oran Park Public School) but cleverly uses a waratah floral element – not only the state floral emblem but also the totem flower for the local Dharawal language group.

The school motto is: PARTNERS IN LEARNING. This statement embodies the spirit of the stated vision: A future focused learning partnership. It speaks importantly of collaboration, inclusivity and participation where the teachers, students, parents and community are welcomed by the school to be active participants in the education of its young people. It references also the Oran Park Public School statement: 'Love of Learning'.

Uniform

Incoming parents were responsible for important decisions on school colours and uniform prior to the school opening.

We are extremely proud of our uniform and the school has a strict code to encourage a sense of school pride and responsibility. Being in uniform shows that our students are ready to learn and it sets a positive tone for the day ahead.
