

Continuity of Learning Plan for Students/Parents

To ensure continuity of learning for students we have:

1. Google Classroom for all subjects

Students have been instructed on how to use Google Classroom and their school email effectively. All staff have also been instructed on how to provide class work through google classroom to ensure continuity of student learning.

An information sheet on joining Google Classroom is attached.

2. Continuity of Learning Timetable for Students

Attached is a timetable for all students to follow whilst they are working from home or school. The times allocated on the timetable are when teachers from those faculty areas will be online answering questions, updating work and providing feedback. Students are still able to access work outside of these times and ask questions but this is the best time for teacher support. Outside of these times teachers will be programming, marking, planning and undergoing professional learning.

3. Disability Support

Our disability support students will be working on StudyLadder for Support students, Maths Prodigy Platform and See Saw. A package was sent to parents last week with information about these platforms.

The NSW Department of Education has provided some tips for Parents and Carers to support student learning:

Communication between home and school

We have set up a Sentral portal for both parents and students. You will receive an email on how to access this from home on Tuesday 24th March.

Students need to log into Sentral each day as there will be an information bulletin for students, a copy of the Continuity of Learning Plan timetable and reminders about upcoming tasks. Students can also email their teachers through this portal.

Who to contact and when:

Students may need to contact teachers about class work, assessments and assignments and can do so through:

- Through Google Classroom
- Through the Sentral Portal email.

Parents may need to contact the school about:

- Issues with technology
- Specific issue you would like to raise with an executive member
- Concern you want addressed with the year adviser
- Curriculum concerns
- Whole school information

Parents can contact the school through our school email address:

oranpark-h.school@det.nsw.edu.au

Please specify in your email to the school what your reason for contact is so that the right person will be able to contact you. For your information the following people have responsibility for the following areas:
